

Understanding autism for careers and employability professionals course

This FREE course is delivered virtually over 4 hours, with breaks provided throughout.

The understanding autism for careers and employability professionals course has been developed in partnership with the a range of qualified professionals as well as autistic young people, and will support those who are offering careers advice or guidance to autistic individuals in a range of settings.

The course is a practical session, delivered by experts by experience and experienced careers and employability professionals who specialise in delivering information, advice and guidance sessions to autistic young people, including Ambitious about Autism Employ Autism programme.

This course is designed for careers and employability professionals only.

Once delegates have completed the training, they will be able to:

- Develop and adapt their careers information and guidance sessions to effectively support their autistic clients.
- Utilise the latest Transition to Employment toolkit and related resources to overcome the challenges facing autistic people in entering employment.
- Identify autistic people who would benefit from a work experience placement to develop their skills, confidence and identify their career aspirations.
- Refer and support candidates to successfully apply for the Employ Autism programme.
- Share learning and contacts to increase the reach of the Employ Autism programme to more autistic people.

Book today

If you would like to attend an Understanding autism for careers and employability professionals course visit our website to view the course dates available and book your space.